in recent years we could be forgiven for assuming that marx has nothing left to say to us marxist regimes have failed miserably and with them it seemed all reason to take marx seriously the fall of the berlin wall had enormous symbolic resonance it was taken to be the fall of marx as well as of marxist politics and economics this book argues that we can detach marx the critic of current society from marx the prophet of future society and that he remains the most impressive critic we have of liberal capitalist bourgeois society it also shows that the value of the great thinkers does not depend on their views being true but on other features such as their originality insight and systematic vision on this account too marx still richly deserves to be read
